Bone conduction technology

Imagine being able to experience sound through the vibrations in the bones of your jaw and cheeks.

Bone conduction and sweat-resistant headphones (or bonephones) are widely used by individuals performing certain sports such as running and cycling. Sound waves bypass both the outer and middle ear, but their stimulating effects go directly to your inner ear using your bones as a conductive current. The Bluetooth® 5.0 technology ensures a stable wireless connection. An integrated battery offers 6.5 hours of playtime on a single charge!

Did you know that...

As you can imagine, the possibilities are endless, and it is not just about Google Home either. You can just tell Siri to perform actions on Google Assistant.

Wireless headphones

The freedom you get with no wires running between headphones and phone. Wireless earbuds won't restrict your movement one bit.

That's handy for commuting and general day-to-day life, and great if you're the sporty type. Other extras can include touch and voice controls and carry cases that double as chargers.

They are compatible with Google Assistant and Siri so you can ask to play your music, ask for road directions, online information, and many other things. This makes these headphones match perfectly with your smart life.

Smooth kitchen products

Our accurate kitchen scales measure herbs, flour, milk, water, and many other ingredients. Some are supplied with an easy-to-clean, removable stainless steel bowl. Put everything in the stand blender to make the perfect fruit and vegetables shake. Use the powerful motor and the stainless steel blades start to cut through the toughest vegetable or piece of fruit you can think of!

Personal weighing

This tempered-glass scale has a 1.5" LCD display measuring four fitness indicators: weight, body fat, muscle and bone mass, while taking into account, age, height, and life style.

Measure in kilograms, stones or pound and store up to 10 different user profiles, enabling multiple users to keep track of their weight and hit their goals.

Smart health

Health changes are determined by a lot more than weight. These smart scales also measure body composition (fat, bone, muscle, water, protein) with bioelectrical impedance and BMI. The scales recognise unique user's data and store them in the right account. The app supports 8 accounts in total, making these scales perfect for your entire family. They provide a perfect solution to monitor the health of loved ones who just aren't very handy with apps: users only need to step on the scales and you can check their data afterwards when and where you like, no need to log in.

* Not to be used by pacemaker users

3. WIFHS10WT

Did you know that...

the SmartLife app keeps track of your data and displays graphs to clearly show changes over time? This makes it easy to detect changes in your body composition, which can guide your lifestyle choices. Also to motivate you to keep working on your fitness plan as your target weight, BMI or body fat comes within reach!

Cooling Down

When you need a quick cool-down, a fan or air conditioning can be a lot more effective, since (home) gyms can get hot. Also, silence can be a priority if you don't want to interrupt your focus during a workout. No matter what you're looking for, you'll find it in our range. There are different sizes and styles to suit your space!
